HERRINGBONE CASA COLLECTION

Herringbone flooring originated in Europe during the Baroque period. It is a traditional floor pattern still commonly used in some of the most prestigious buildings of Europe. Because of its astonishing beauty and symmetry, herringbone has always been one of the most sought after wood flooring patterns. Besides the traditional herringbone pattern, it also offers many other possibilities in design, such as: Plait, Shifted Dice or Lamella.

The Herringbone pattern can be installed either parallel to the walls or diagonally. Placing boards in a Herringbone pattern and gluing down, also adds much more stability than the normal single strip method.

Our CASA herringbone timber flooring is made of select grade oak only , We also offer giant size Herringbone planks 950mm*190mm*20mm.

CHALET COLLECTION

Old world tradition meets today's trend. Random widths and lengths are a European trend creating a very unique statement. Historically, random plank sizes came about in order to utilise the cut of the tree in the most efficient way possible. Today, these random widths have been adapted to create extremely contemporary floors with a natural and authentic feel.

Chevron flooring patterns have long been associated with elegance and prestige. In the 1600's this pattern became an integral part of the most distinguished homes and stately architecture. Different to herringbone, designed with full boards, the Chevron pattern is designed with boards cut at an angle. It has a stunning appearance, with its beautiful "V" shaped parquetry.

From simple to elaborate, by using one or a combination of species or colours, Chevron has become the flooring of choice by today's architects and designers.
